< Summarise

The Summarise tool uses generative AI to condense a whole page or a section of said page into a much shorter excerpt.

These can be saved for reference at a later date.

Doing so allows for a much more streamlined learning process, focusing the student's attention and supporting the revision process.

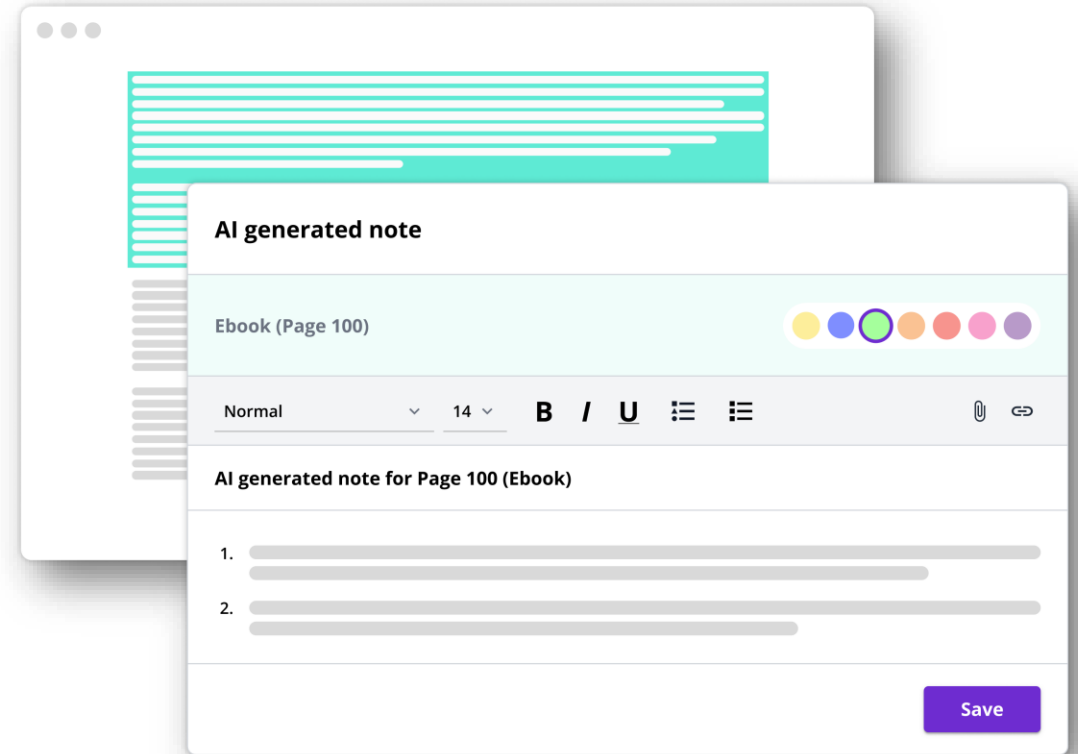

< AI study notes

With the power of generative AI, Premium users can turn large passages of content into succinct bullet point lists in an instant.

Our new AI study notes tool will provide the reader with key takeaways from their chosen text or page, again providing them with a streamlined way to study and learn in today's age.

These AI generated study notes can be edited, saved and shared as their own self-produced notes would be.

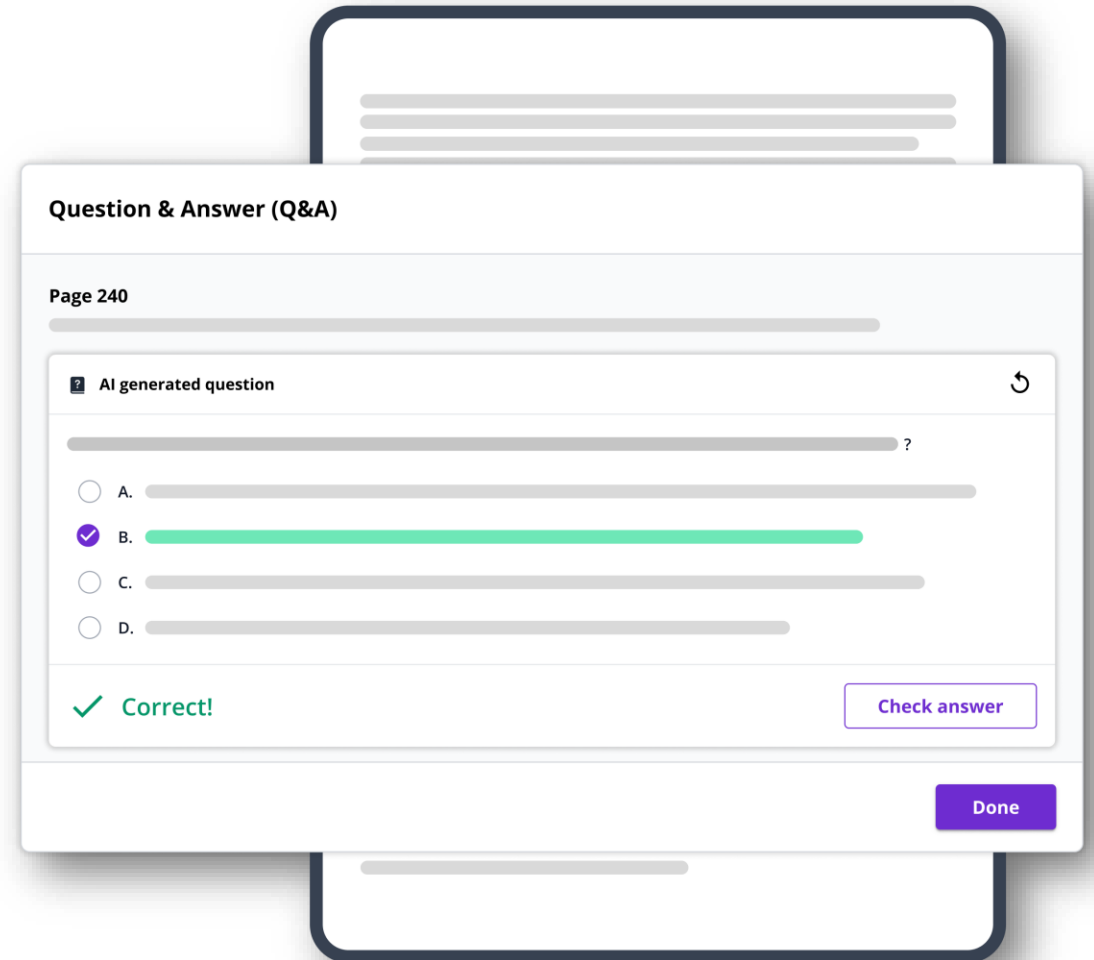

< Q&A

While the first two tools help to streamline the studying process, Q&A reinforces learning to support student success.

Questions and answers can be produced on either a section of text or the entire page.

The more text selected, the greater likelihood of more multiple-choice questions.

< Other features

Workbooks – Notes, summaries, highlights and anything produced by our generative AI software, stored in one place and shareable with other Premium users.

Video collection – Our video collection is now almost two million strong and is available exclusively to Premium users.

Citations – Users can generate exportable citations for chosen sections of copy in an instant, saving time and removing human error.

Translate – Over 120 different global languages are available to Premium users.

My files – Kortext Premium users get 5GB of cloud storage. They can turn their Arcturus platform into a complete study space for all their materials, truly streamlining their online learning experience.

Thank you for your attention!
